Seminar on “The usage of ANUBANDHAM PORTAL & MOBILE APPLICATION”

Date: 08 October, 2021

Directorate of Employment & Training (working under the department of labour and skill development & employment Department, Government of Gujarat), has been in the forefront of implementing various skill-building programs with the aim of helping people get jobs. The government of Gujarat has launched Anubandham Portal for the citizens of Gujarat on 06 August, 2021. With the motto of “हर हाथ को काम, हर खेत को पानी”, Anubandham aims to bring together Job Seeker and Job Provider at one place. Through this portal, employers can hire a workforce and the job seekers will be able to get employment.

The employers will be able to upload their job vacancies and the job seekers will be able to apply for the open vacancies according to their eligibility. The government has launched this portal keeping in mind the need for employment amongst youth.

The main objective of the Anubandham Portal is to provide a common space for employees to post vacancies and unemployed candidates to apply through it. This portal will sort out the problem of unemployment in the state. Now citizens will be able to apply for the job of their choice from the comfort of their homes. They are not required to go anywhere in order to apply for a job. This will save a lot of time and money and will also bring transparency to the system.

On 08 October, 2021, UDISHA Committee of the Institute, in collaboration with Employment exchange office, Gandhinagar organised a seminar on “The usage of ANUBANDHAM PORTAL & MOBILE APPLICATION”. Students were guided on downloading the application and registration on portal by Mr. Nirmal Patel, Employment exchange office, Gandhinagar. Principal Dr. M. G. Bhatt motivated the students and also explained how government is taking efforts to improve the rate of employment in the state. 182 participants were benefited and also downloaded the application along with their registration.

Lecture on “ Nonverbal Communication”

Date: 21 January, 2022

Nonverbal communication plays a significant role in our lives, as it can improve a person's ability to relate, engage, and establish meaningful interactions in everyday life. To educate the students on this theme, an online lecture was conducted by Dr. Mehul Dave, Associate professor and head, Department of life sciences, IITE, Gandhinagar. Dr. Dave explained that Nonverbal communication is conveying your message through gestures, postures, signals, or clues. In our personal and professional lives, we give and receive countless nonverbal clues every day. He further demonstrated various models of different gestures with live examples to convey his message. Students got to learn that “The most important thing in communication is hearing what isn’t said”.

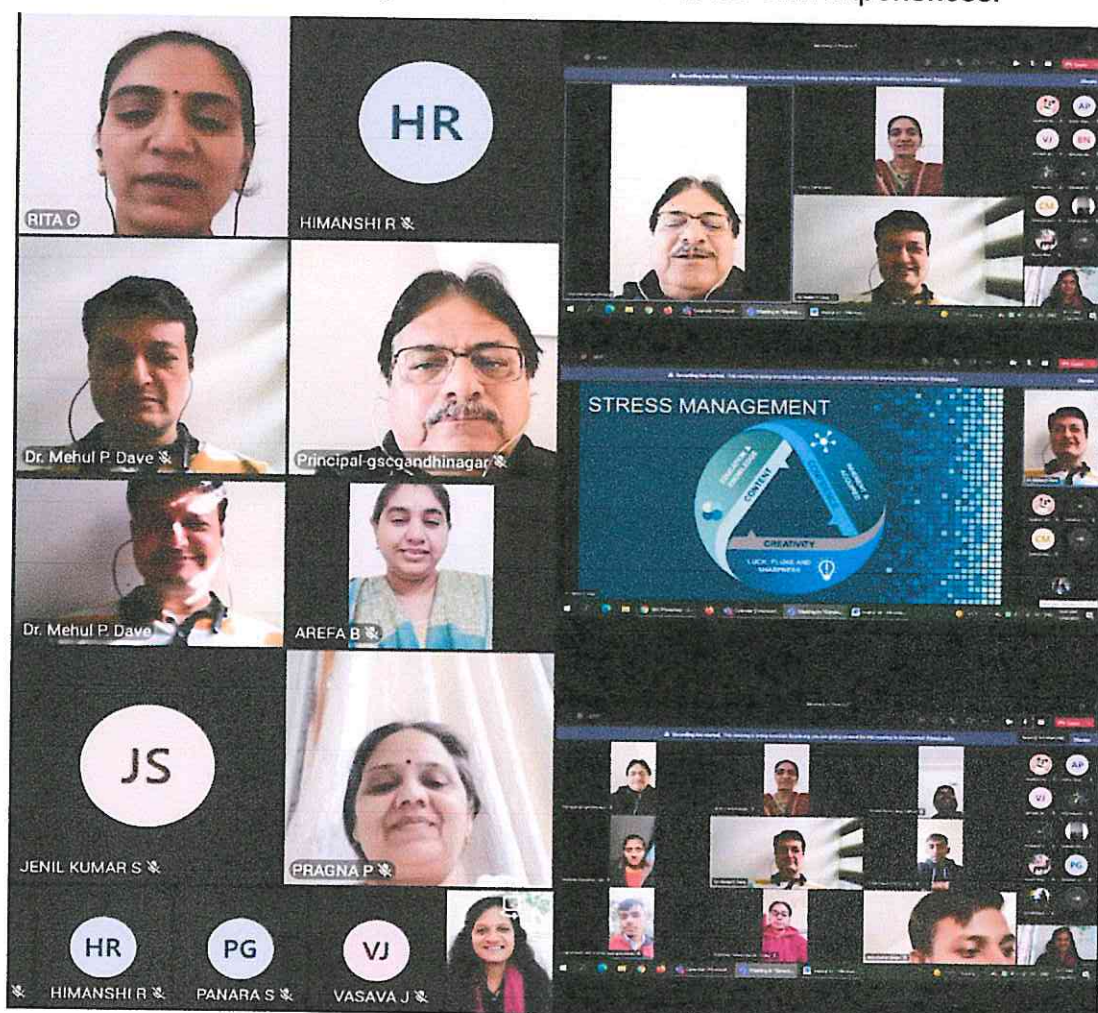

Students showed interest by asking the impact of nonverbal communication during job interviews & also how to impress the interviewer along with the impact of the same at workplace. Dr. Dave emphasised that the boss communicating positive nonverbal cues when speaking with employees can increase employee morale, as well as their job performance.

The session was smoothly covered by Dr. Jignasha Thumar- Chairmen, UDISHA committee. Principal Dr. M. G. Bhatt appreciated the efforts of the committee in not only in selecting the topics of the lecture series, but also on bringing the appropriate experts on the platform. He further added that sometimes communication gaps may arise between employers and employees. Leaders should be trained in nonverbal communication to eliminate this gap that could be a barrier to effective discussions.

Lecture on "Manage your stress before it manages you"

Date: 24 January, 2022

Research shows college students commonly experience stress because of increased responsibilities, being homesick, academic or personal competition, personal pressure to do well, a lack of good time management and not taking enough breaks for self-care. This type of stress for long can lead to depression, anxiety, nervousness, and stress-related disorders, which in turn can adversely affect academic results. Dr. Mehul Dave, explained the same along with counselling the students to overcome the stress level. The session was handled by Dr. Rita Chudasama- Member, UDISHA committee of the college. Honorable principal sir, Dr. M. G. Bhatt graced the meet and shared the techniques of stress management to students with his own experiences.

Lecture on “Strategies of effective interview”

Date: 25 January, 2022

To improve the interview skills among the students, the college organised a session on “Strategies of effective interview by Dr. Dilip Vasava, Assistant professor, department of chemistry, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad. Dr. Vasava advised the students to practice good nonverbal communication, about the dress code, to use appropriate language, not to become too much familiar or afraid, to take care while answering the questions, not to appear desperate etc. He also mentioned that your performance in an interview depends, to a significant extent, on how well you prepare for it. The session was smoothly conducted by Dr. Vivek Dave, - Member, UDISHA committee of the college followed by question-answer session by the students.

Lecture on "Write a winning resume"

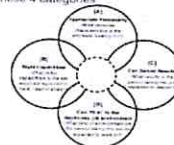

Date: 28 January, 2022

A resume is meant to market the person to a potential employer by drawing attention to the skills and accomplishments that the employer values. It is a critical piece in the job search portfolio and deserves an investment of time. Dr. Jagruti Bheda, LE college, Morbi delivered a talk on how to write a winning resume. She explained that the student must be willing to write and edit until he/she has a well-organized document. Resume must include basic information, education, skills, experience etc. Dr. Pooja Sharma – member, UDISHA committee introduced the speaker & moderated the entire session including doubt solving session by the students. On completion of the lecture series, Principal Dr. M.G. Bhatt Greeted the entire committee for their tireless efforts to make the event successful and interesting.

13.1 What is the Employer looking for?

When Employers offer jobs, they look for 4 key aspects in an applicant. Thus, as a Contributor, when you are thinking of applying for a job, look out for what the Employer is looking for under each of these 4 categories
